OKLAHOMA CARING VAN
ADD ONE

The Oklahoma Caring Van Program is designed to help Oklahoma children receive the immunizations they need to stay healthy. “Seventy-five percent of children’s vaccinations are needed in their first two years of life to protect them from diseases, disabilities and death,” said Brooke Townsend, manager of the Oklahoma Caring Foundation.

The Caring Vans are mobile units staffed by registered nurses who administer free vaccinations to children at licensed child care centers, schools and community events. Since the program began, more than 130,000 immunizations have been given statewide.

The Oklahoma Caring Van Program is administered through The Oklahoma Caring Foundation, Inc., a non-profit organization established by Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Oklahoma.
